HOW IT'S MADE

Harvesting Energy from the Sun

Friday, June 10th

1:30 pm in the Party Room

On Friday, June 10th, at 1:30 pm, Cornell Estates is pleased to announce the launch of another new educational lecture series called "How's It Made" with a special presentation on solar technology.

In "Harvesting Energy from the Sun," Mr. Mark Farrell of Synchro Solar will describe how solar technology works, the history and growth of the industry, incentives and cost examples for going solar in residential and commercial applications, as well as information on current U.S. fuel sources.

Synchro Solar is a full-service Oregon-based contractor that specializes in a streamlined approach to the design and installation of solar electric and solar hot water systems. With over 20 years of experience in commercial building products, Mr. Farrell promotes Property-Assessed Clean Energy programs around the country and installation of renewable solar energy systems.

This event is free and open to the public. We would love to see you at this fascinating presentation on Friday, June 10th, at 1:30 pm!

Educational Travelogue:

Key West & The Everglades

Friday, June 24th

1:30 pm in the Party Room

A secret treasure map. Alligator-infested jungles. Sunken treasure. These are the stuff of legends, and nowhere is it more obvious than in Florida's Key West and the Everglades. Join Bob and Lanora Kuest on Friday, June 24th, at 1:30 pm in the Party Room as we explore the unique shipping history and ecosystems for which southern Florida is famous.

In the 1850s, Key West was one of the richest cities in the United States. As Bob Kuest guides us through the Shipwreck Treasures Museum and the Mel Fisher Museum, it's not difficult to understand why: many ships were wrecked on the Florida Keys reefs, and the inhabitants of Key West made their fortunes recovering the cargo!

Of course, the Keys are legendary for more than pirate legends and shipwrecked treasure. They're also famous for some spectacular wildlife, including the Butterfly Conservatory and the Everglades themselves. The Butterfly conservatory houses some 50-60 species of butterflies in a tropical paradise, complete with waterfalls, trees, and colorful birds.

But the main attraction, as Bob Kuest will tell you, is the Everglades themselves. Many of its unique wildlife and plants are specific to the area's interdependent ecosystems. Bob's pictures include many of the birds, alligators, turtles, insects, lizards, and fish found in this special place.

This event is free and open to the public. Join us for this exciting presentation on Friday, June 24th!

That's Entertainment!
