

Cornell Estates presents:
Oregon Poet Laureate Paulann Petersen
Wednesday, October 19th
2:00 pm in the Party Room

In this modern age of texting and email, the art of capturing the world around us in poems is a rare talent. Luckily for us, it's a talent that the current Oregon Poet Laureate has in abundance. We are delighted to invite you to a reading and discussion by Oregon Poet Laureate Paulann Petersen on Wednesday,

October 19th, at 2:00 pm in the Party Room.

The Oregon Poet Laureate, selected by the governor, is someone who has captured "the beauty and spirit of the state through the medium of verse." A native Oregonian, Paulann's first poem appeared in The Oregonian in 1975. Encouraged by her success, she became a high school English teacher and pursued her poetry. She received a Stegner fellowship to study at Stanford with notable poets Adrienne Rich and Grace Paley in the 1980s.

She has published numerous books of her poetry, as well as individual poems in dozens of magazines, anthologies, and Poetry in Motion, which places poems on Tri-Met buses. Now retired, Paulann has given readings in hundreds of places around Oregon. She also frequently teaches workshops for colleges, high schools, libraries, and writers' organizations.

The position of Oregon Poet Laureate was first established in 1923 and adopted by the Oregon legislature in 1989. Paulann became the 6th Poet Laureate in April 2010 with an initial appointment of two years. Previous Poet Laureates include Lawson Fusao Inada, William Stafford, Ethel Romig Fuller, Ben Hur Lampman, and Edwin Markham.

Dental Clinic Grand Opening
2:30 pm near the 1st Floor Alcove
&
Oral Health Workshop
3:00 pm in the Party Room
Tuesday, October 25th

After a summer of cotton candy, snow cones, ice cream, and more, what could be better than a trip to the dentist? In partnership with the Pacific University School of Dentistry, Cornell Estates is proud to invite the public to the grand opening of its dental clinic on Tuesday, October 25th, at 2:30 pm!

Officials from Pacific University will be on hand for the inaugural "ribbon cutting" on this new service for Cornell Estates residents and staff. They will have a short reception afterwards and then, at 3:00 pm, senior Pacific University dental students will offer a special Oral Health presentation. Their presentation will focus on understanding the intricate connection between dental health and overall physical health.

Cornell Estates' in-house dental clinic is the culmination of a project that began more than a year ago with Pacific University. Their senior dental students provide basic dental services at reduced rate for Cornell Estates residents, who in turn teach the dental students about the unique challenges in treating older patients.

A special thank you goes to Forest Dental Products, who graciously donated the dental chair for the permanent dental clinic!

Continuing Education

Travelogue:
Geology of the Columbia Gorge
Monday, October 24th
2:30 pm in the Party Room

The Columbia River Gorge is one of the most striking features in Oregon. But how did this amazing landmark form? Travel back in time with Marjorie Burns on Tuesday, October 24th, at 1:30 pm in the Party Room as she describes the geology that gave the Gorge its striking features.

Marjorie will also tell a second story about J Harlen Bretz, the man who first proposed that an ancient flood formed the Columbia Gorge. His theory was wildly unpopular even through the 1920s, when most geologists were trying to wean the public away from images of the Biblical flood affecting local geology.

But, as it turns out, Bretz was correct: Giant floods, racing across Eastern Washington into the Columbia basin and on down to the ocean, were what created the shapes, formations, and waterfalls we see in the Columbia Gorge today.

Marjorie Burns is a professor emeritus of nineteenth century British Literature at Portland State University and one of the two original authors of Cataclysms on the Columbia. Copies of her book will be available for purchase after the presentation.

Travelogue:
Journey through Colombia
Friday, October 7th
1:30 in the Party Room

For decades, the country of Columbia has been synonymous with fine imported coffee. And yet, this thriving country in northern South America has so much more for tourists to discover and explore.

Join local tourist Ruth Ann McCullough on Friday, October 7th, at 1:30 pm in the Party Room as she takes us on a journey through Columbia. With pictures taken during her trip, she will lead an expedition into the people, spirit, and culture of this fascinating country.

Together, she will explore the state of Santender, located in the northeast area of Columbia near the Venezuelan border. Fields of cassava, palm, cocoa plants, beans, and pineapple cover the land, while smells of char grilled beef, goat, and other meat dishes tantalize the senses.

Then it is on to Bogota, the country's capital. Often called the Athens of South America, Bogota is a city bristling with culture.

The final destination will be Santa Marte, a thriving city on the Caribbean founded in 1525 the oldest city in Columbia,. The warm sun, cool evening breezes, and long stretches of Caribbean beaches make it the perfect destination to finish the journey through Columbia with Ruth Ann.

A second grade teacher at Harvey Clarke Elementary School in Forest Grove, Ruth Ann McCullough's dream has been to travel to all seven continents. When she visits, she loves to stay with friends for one to three months, allowing her to truly experience the people and culture of her destination. With travel and adventure as her middle names, Ruth Ann is excitedly planning her future trips to other continents.

Get Fit

Get A Flu Shot

Tuesday, October 11th

9:00 am - 10:00 Residents

10:00 am - 12:00 pm General Public
Party Room

According to the CDC, flu seasons are unpredictable in a number of ways. Although epidemics of flu happen every year, the timing, severity, and length of the epidemic depends on many factors, including what influenza viruses are spreading and whether they match the viruses in the vaccine. However, the first and most important step to protecting against the flu is to get a yearly flu shot as early in the flu season as possible.

That's why we'll be hosting Get A Flu Shot clinic on Tuesday, October 11th, from 9:00 am -12:00 pm. Get a Flu Shot.com will be giving the influenza and pneumonia shots and billing most insurances. We will have a list of eligible insurance plans by the end of September along with consent forms to be completed. The clinic will be open to the public from 10:00 am to 12:00 pm, leaving the 9:00 am hour reserved for our residents.

In addition to the flu shots, other guidelines for Cornell will include infection control practices for staff, residents, family and visitors. There are two main rules: 1) stay home if you are sick; 2) wash your hands frequently. Look for posters and reminders throughout the building in the coming weeks to build our army in the fight against the flu.
